The auditors also praised management for its very high level of cooperation with the audit and well as UHY's supportive approach in conducting the audit. Ms. McManus highlighted certain areas of the audit. Mr. Steel then introduced Sarah Saint-Amand, President of the Convection Center Development Corporation, to update the Board on the status of the expansion project. Ms. Saint-Amand advised the Board that it had been a busy time, working in close coordination with the corporation's staff. The Request for Qualifications was issued in April. On June 20 three bidders were selected to respond to the Request for Proposal, Gilbane Building Company, Lendlease Turner (a joint venture) and Skanska Javits Design Build Joint Venture. Responses are due October 31, 2016. The winning bidder is scheduled to be selected in early 2017. Javits North is expected to be demolished sometime after April 2017. As a way to expedite the expansion, CCDC will begin some work this fall, including building a new elevated transformer yard and rerouting certain utilities. Mr. Steel noted that operational continuity was being heavily emphasized. Mr. Emil inquired how the design aspect of the project was being handled given the Design/Build approach. He was advised that JII Architects had been involved in developing bridging documents to create design and performance standards for the bidders. In addition, each of the bidders has already identified their architects, all of which are from notable firms. Mr. Lavine questioned whether there would be marshalling of vehicles under exhibit space, which he considered a security issue.
